Glavé & Holmes Architecture Elevates Inman to Principal

Richmond, Va. (May 27, 2010) – Glavé & Holmes Architecture is pleased to announce that Gary M. Inman has been promoted to Principal. Inman joined the firm in 2006, following several years heading his own firm, to lead the Interior Design Studio and is currently Director of the Hospitality and Residential Studio.

With nearly 20 years of experience in interior design and architectural history, Inman has helped Glavé & Holmes to build a diverse hospitality practice with projects including the award-winning Presidential Suite, 1895 Camillia Room Restaurant, and East Wing Renovation at the Pinehurst Resort, the Washington Duke Inn, the Miller Center of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia, and the Montalto Scholar Retreat Center for the Thomas Jefferson Foundation. He is the first interior designer to be named a principal at the firm.

Inman is an alumnus of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, Virginia Commonwealth University, and the University of Virginia. An award-winning designer, lecturer and widely published author, he is an allied member of the American Society of Interior Designers, The Network of the Hospitality Industry, and the Society of Architectural Historians.

Founded in 1965, the award-winning Glavé & Holmes Architecture specializes in cultural, higher education, hospitality, interior design, residential and urban architecture projects. Glavé & Holmes Architecture believes that the creation of successful, context-responsive projects requires a collaborative process involving a well-structured design team, the client, the community, and other constituencies. From the firm's inception, this principle has guided its work, resulting in exceptional service to diverse clientele.
